Prestige of 15 first time MLAs who quit Cong at stake

OUR STAFF REPORTER BHOPAL

It might be a coincidence but it is a fact that as many as 15 of the 25 MLAs who quit the Congress and jumped on to the BJP bandwagon were firsttimer legislators. Clearly, their political career in politics had just begun. But still, they chose to dump the party that had sent them to the Vidhan Sabha for the first time. And now they are again in the fray as nominees of the BJP with no certainty that they would be re-elected.

All of them are young (in political terms) and are in the age group of 35-45 years and have a long political career before them. Then, why did they do what they did?

One answer, of course, is that their primary loyalty was not to the party but to Jyotiraditya Scindia, who was instrumental in securing Congress tickets for them and also for ensuring their victory. This is especially true of those who had won from the Gwalior-Chambal region – where Scindia is said to command a formidable influence.

However, the Congress believes that they did it primarily for the sake of money. "All this talk of they being hurt because of lack of development in their constituencies is a lot of humbug," says Bhupendra Gupta, state media vice president for Congress.

THE TURNCOATS, MOSTLY IN AGE GROUP OF 35-45 YEARS, HAVE A LONG POLITICAL CAREER AHEAD

According to Gupta, these MLAs had just sold themselves.

"They have earned enough money to last their lifetime. Even if they lose the ongoing by-elections, they won't mind it," he said.

BJP candidate Manoj Choudhary seek mass support in Hatpipliya

Moreover, according to him, all of them had won polls with slender margins and they were not sure whether they would be able to make it to the Vidhan Sabha the next time. Raineesh Agarwal, spokesperson for the BJP, however, takes a different view. According to him, the MLAs cannot be faulted on moral or ethical grounds because they had simultaneously resigned from the Vidhan Sabha and are now seeking a fresh mandate from the people.

"They knew that the future of the Congress is dark and that they would end up nowhere if they continue in the party. And that is why they chose to switch to the BJP," Agarwal said. He said that if the MLAs were sure that the Congress enjoys popularity and influence in the state they would have never quit it.

Promotion to next classes begins, college results not yet declared

OUR STAFF REPORTER BHOPAL

The department of higher education has issued schedule for promotion of students to next level despite the results being pending in universities.

The department has started promotion of students of second and third year of undergraduate classes to next level. Similar orders have been issued for the students of third semester of postgraduate classes.

Academicians have started raising questions over this step as results of most of the universities haven't been declared yet. "This step by the higher education department has established our apprehensions that government was giving a general promotion to the students," said educationist and whistleblower, Devendra Pratap Singh. "We had demanded that general promotions should be given owing to extraordinary circumstances generated by the Covid-19 pandemic. Nevertheless, government decided to take examinations- open book examinations. Now they have started promotion process without results being declared," added Singh.

Colleges have been asked to complete process of promotion of students to next class between November 3 and 10. Students have been asked to deposit first installment of fee by November 30.

Considering the fact the most of the answer copies were lying unchecked and unattended in most of the colleges and universities, it seems highly unlikely that the results could be declared in the month of November whereas the students will be promoted to next class by November 10, said a senior professor who is also in-charge principal.

It seems that results- whatever they would be- doesn't matter much now. Most of the students will be promoted, said the principal.

Due to Covid-19 pandemic situation, whole academic system has gone haywire. Online classes have begun while admissions are still in process. What about the students who will join late? How their course will be completed, asked another professor. A senior official of the department wishing anonymity said that extra classes will be organised for such students.

The association had raised the issue even at ministerial level and even took to streets but the effort did not yield any positive results, Singh said.
